OUR HISTORY

The Richardson story began in the late 1960s when Howard Wicklund and Neil Richardson opened up shop in Eugene, Oregon. Originally, the company was called Howard Wicklund Sporting Goods and operated as a wholesale distributor. In 1970, the Richardson family purchased the company and Richardson was born.

RICHARDSON TODAY

Over 50 years later, Richardson is still a family-owned and operated company headquartered in Springfield, Oregon, with distribution centers in Oregon, Ohio and Texas. We produce a full line of performance and lifestyle headwear and baseball uniforms for customers around the world. We are a vertically integrated design and manufacturing company, with a large selection of high-quality styles and colors ready for immediate delivery. We are also a leader in the custom cap market, creating personalized hats for teams, brands, businesses, breweries, fishing shops, and everything in between.
